A precious one from us has gone.

A voice we loved is still.

A place is vacant in our home,

Which never can be filled.

We shall meet but we shall miss her.

There will be one vacant chair.

We shall linger to caress her.

When we breathe our evnning prayer.

When a year ago we gathered.

Joy was in her mild blue eye.

But a golden cord is severed

Near the barn door he found her, with a large hole in one side of her head. A large board, bloodstained, found nearby, apparently had been blown from a fence and had pierced her head.

Mr. Hawkins summoned his sister and took Mrs. Hawkins into the barn. They tried to call a doctor, but the phone lines were down. They then put her in an automobile and went to the home of a neighbor, Ed Dargon, where they tried to summon a physician from Ryan, but failed.

Then they took her to the home of Mrs. James Emerson where a physician was obtained. The doctor announced that death had been almost instantaneous.
